

How Would A Disability Upset Your Retirement Financial Planning?

Presented by Babette B. Bach, Esquire

Wednesday
May 17, 2017

2:00 - 3:00 p.m.

1:45 - light refreshments

Course Fee: $25

Discuss and learn about the necessity to plan for disability and guardianship avoidance. Most individuals plan more for death than a long slow goodbye. Should a degenerative disease, such as Alzheimer's or Parkinson's, be diagnosed there can be massive unexpected health care costs.

1. Review Medicare, long-term care, private insurance coverage and payment. VA benefits for honorably discharged Veterans and their surviving dependents may also be reviewed.
2. Explore Medicaid coverage availability for home care, community based programs and skilled care.
3. Discover recent legislation regarding living wills and trends in other states towards compassionate choice.

Babette Bach is a Florida Board Certified Elder Law attorney and the founder of BACH & JACOBS, P.A. Bach is nationally certified as an Elder Law Expert by the National Elder Law Foundation. Her practice specializes in the legal needs of mature or disabled clients, including Medicaid and VA planning, Probate, Trust Administration, Estate Planning, Disability Planning, Special Needs Trusts and Guardianships. (To read more about her accomplishments, please visit our website www.friendshipcenterforagingstudies.org.)

Global Aging: Local and Global Ramifications for Families, Healthcare, and Nations

Thursday

May 25, 2017

9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

8:45 - light breakfast

Course Fee: $40

Presented by Allyson Wright

Expand your foundational knowledge regarding global aging and its impact on micro and macro communities in various countries. Learn the importance of the United Nations' International Plan of Action on Aging and the Political Declaration. Delve into the policies and current practice in place for the elderly in developing nation, by exploring the concept of "aging" for its older populations in: Kenya, Norway, China, Canada, and smaller Asian cultures.

Allyson Wright is currently working on her PhD in Gerontology at Concordia University Chicago. She started her career as an elementary school teacher in Baltimore County, MD--near the city line. After obtaining her Master's in School Library Media, she was given the directive to create her own school library program in Carroll County, MD. This career path fueled her continued passion for learning.

Spending time with her amazing 94-year-old grandfather prompted her to pursue a career as a Gerontologist. The Global Aging course as part of the Gerontology curriculum at Concordia University Chicago fascinated her so much so that she reached out to a co-author of the Global Aging textbook and Kenyan professor Dr. Samuel Mwangi to further her knowledge of current Kenyan aging policies. She is never satisfied by the textbook--she wants the knowledge and friendship that academic connections bring!

Location for both courses:

Friendship Centers Ruben Center for Healthy Aging – Dwyer Room
1900 Brother Geenen Way, Sarasota, FL 34236

To register visit centerforagingstudies.org or call 941.556.3263

Special 20% discount for registering and paying online

The Friendship Center for Aging Studies provides ongoing continuing education for interested individuals and healthcare, mental health and allied professionals, members of affiliated associations and others serving the aging community. Courses feature experts who share their research and expertise in the arena of aging to increase the knowledge of aging studies for anyone interested in learning and enhance the skills of professionals dealing with the multiple challenges facing our aging population – a growing population requiring their services.